From the Coach of “Madam President”

Maine Rally was “Wicked Good”

Now don't start thinking I'm being rude by making that statement. For “Mainers” (AKA: “Mainahs”), saying that something is “wicked good” is a compliment. So to our Maine rally masters, Jim & Nancy McNulty and Chris & Kathleen Koch, our sincere thanks for a “wicked good” rally! The Royale Coach Club is grateful for all your hard work in planning another successful rally. Many thanks also to Larry & Beverley Dunville for hosting four couples on Prince Edward Island prior to the Maine gathering.

I also want to extend our thanks to Dave Wall and Robin King from Liberty Coach and Robert Jones from Prevost for attending the rally and for your tremendous support of our club. Words cannot express how much we appreciate everything you do for us. A new “H” would have come home with me/us if only our piggy bank had more piggies! I really loved that show coach!!

It was great welcoming first-timers Richard & Anne Gould and Joe & Tami Zehr to the club. We hope you felt “at home” among us, and we hope to see you again very soon.

When I think back on all the rallies Ron and I have attended since joining the club, I marvel at where we have been, what we have done, and how blessed we were to share those experiences with a great group of friends who have really become our extended family. I am sure you all share those sentiments. Each rally is unique with the personal flair of the rally masters demonstrated in all that we see and do. How fortunate we are to have locals plan our rallies!

The rallies for 2010 are in the history book, so now we look forward to 2011 and the opportunities we have to spend time together: Washington, D.C. in May (John & Mary Habicht, rally masters) and Cody, Wyoming in September (Terry & Kathy Solberg, rally masters). Please mark your calendars and watch the Royale Coach Club website and your inbox for details.

If you are spending time in Florida this winter, please plan on attending the Naples Prevost Dinner on Sunday, February 20th. If you would like to spend more time in Naples, 30 sites have been reserved at Signature Resorts in Naples for a four night stay, from February 17th to 21st. I have been asked to take over the planning of this event, but I am asking for help from all of you to make it the success it has always been (please say “yes” when I call you for help!). The RCC website will be updated as plans become more concrete and invitations will be sent via e-mail.

Finally, if you missed the Oshkosh, WI, EAA Airventure air show these past two years, you will have another opportunity next July 24th - 31st. Bob & Gail Hansen have generously volunteered to plan another outing for us to this spectacular event.

All I can say is “WOW...what a great club!”

In closing, Ron and I want to wish each of you a Happy Thanksgiving, a joyous CHRISTmas, and a blessed 2011!

MAINE . . . “the Way Life Should Be”

Royale Coach Club Fall Rally Recap - - - - - by Kally Kitchings

So Much Lobster, So Little Time. My goal for the Royale Coach Club Fall Rally was to eat my weight in lobster - - - and I think I accomplished my goal! Ron and I were continuing our lobster quest from the mini rally in Prince Edward Island (see previous article) and arrived early at Bayley's Campground in Portland, Maine. Our rally masters for the first half of the rally, Jim and Nancy McNulty were already set up at Bayley's Campground so we were fortunate enough to enjoy a lobster dinner with them on our first night there.

While the rally did not officially start until Sunday, Jim and Nancy graciously opened their lake home to all early arrivals for cocktails and light snacks on Saturday afternoon. Many of us enjoyed a relaxing boat ride on Sebago Lake (and got to see Demi Moore's house.)

The first official function of the rally was to say hello to everyone and to meet and welcome our first timers. Our Madame President Laurel Volberding introduced and welcomed our first timers: Richard & Anne Gould and Joe & Tami Zehr. It was now time for the first official lobster dinner catered by Bayley's Campground - - - and I am now well on my way to reaching my goal. Here is Jim McNulty thanking the staff of Bayley's for the wonderful dinner.

Monday was a free day and I think the entertainment of choice was a visit to L.L.Bean. I think this is the only retail store I have ever been to that is open 24-7-365. The store is in several different buildings with a wide variety of items to purchase (and yes, I did come out of one of the stores with a shopping bag.) I heard some people visited Kennebunkport and some went to museums. Everyone also visited the two beautiful show coaches that Liberty Coach brought to the rally.

Tuesday was a very fun filled day of sailing and touring. The Prevost tour buses picked us up at the campground Tuesday morning (thanks Prevost) and delivered us to the Maine State Pier where we boarded two antique schooners.

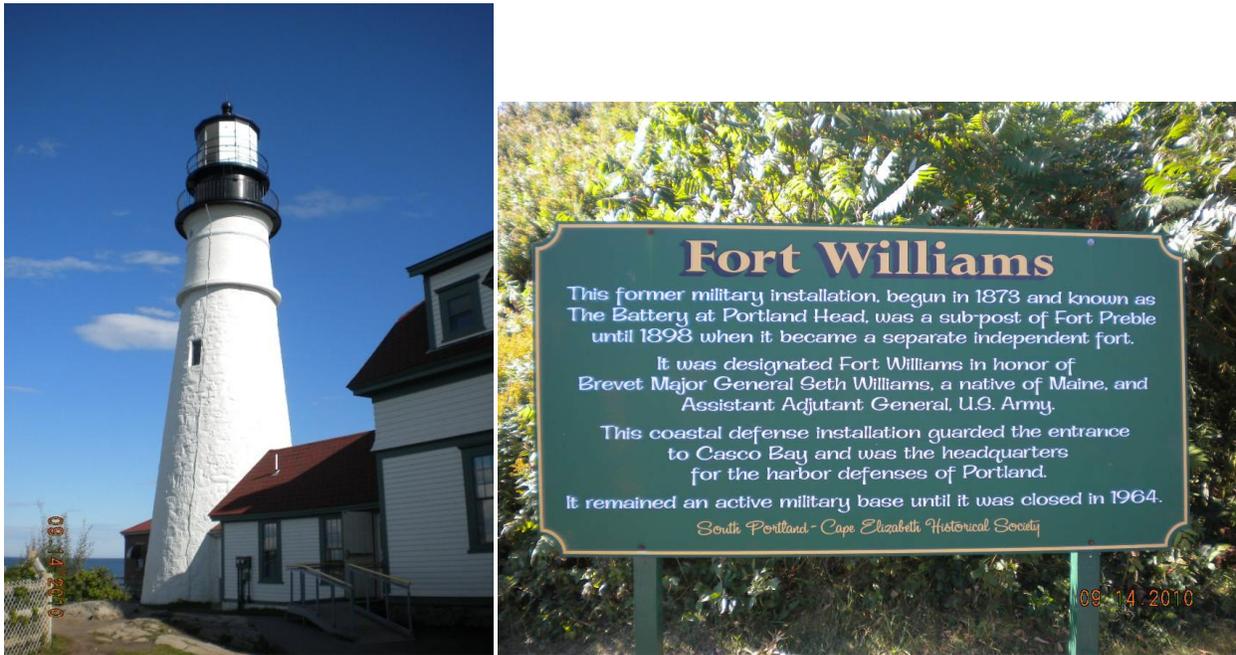

We sailed Casco Bay to Cow Island and had a traditional lobster bake for lunch. Bill and Rita Bunch relaxed in the hammock strung between two trees.

We were able to tour the island before we re-boarded the schooners for the sailing trip back to the “Maine”land. After we had re-boarded the ships but prior to sailing Dave Brendle made sure he took our first of three group photos. Our trip back was a little bit more eventful than our trip out because we almost lost John Habicht! John was enjoying the sunshine while laying down on the boat . . . the boat caught wind in the sail so the boat tilted towards the water . . . and John just started sliding towards the boat’s edge and could not stop. Thankfully, his wife Mary grabbed him at the last moment keeping John from going for an unexpected swim.

We continued our tour to Portland Headlight and Fort Williams State Park. We visited an historic lighthouse that was commissioned by George Washington and built in 1791.

Wednesday ended the rally in Portland therefore Jim and Nancy were sighing the sigh of relief. The McNultys were gracious rally masters and put in a lot of work to make the first half of the rally enjoyable. Every morning during our stay in Portland, the McNulty's even had donuts and coffee at their coach for everyone. It was now time for them to turn the reins over to Chris and Kathleen Koch for the second half of the rally in Bar Harbor, Maine.

As we travelled in small caravans to Bar Harbor to stay at Narrows Too Campground, Chris and Kathleen were getting their home site ready for the Welcome Party at Camp by the Sea. We carpooled to the Kock's and enjoyed light snacks and cocktails - - and their hospitality.

Dinner was on our own for the evening and as you can see most people had not had enough lobster yet - - - except for Bob Chalk!

Thursday brought a tour of Acadia National Park by a professional tour guide. Our guide was very knowledgeable about the park and surrounding areas and was also a part-time comedian. He kept us laughing throughout the tour. During one of the stops in Acadia Park Dave Brendle took the second of our third group photo.

The third group photo was taken later that day at the conclusion of our tour of Jackson Laboratories. We started the Jackson Labs tour with lunch then split into small groups for the customized tour of the facilities. All of us soon realized how determined the non-profit genetic research facility was to finding causes and possible cures for life threatening diseases such as cancer, diabetes, heart disease and strokes. Another disease being studied is osteoporosis. We were able to personally meet with many research scientists and ask many questions.

Friday morning was spent on a very relaxing but very cold narrated nature cruise boat ride. We saw seals, porpoises, and many of our National Symbol, The American Bald Eagle. The coastline of Bar Harbor and surrounding islands was simply beautiful.

Lunch and the afternoon were “on our own” but we all met back up again Friday evening to have dinner at and to tour the Seal Cove Auto Museum. This museum holds an extensive inventory of “Brass Era” vehicles.

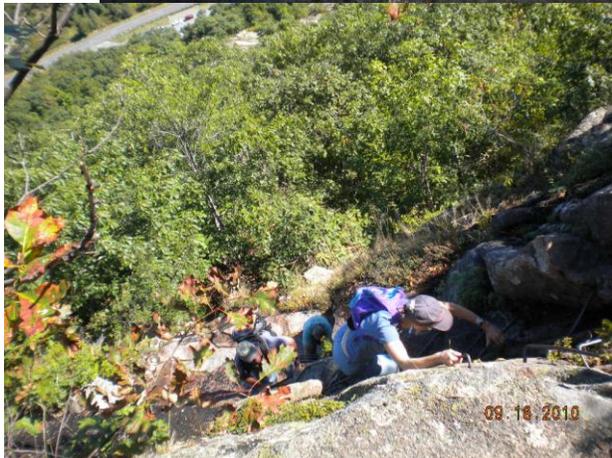

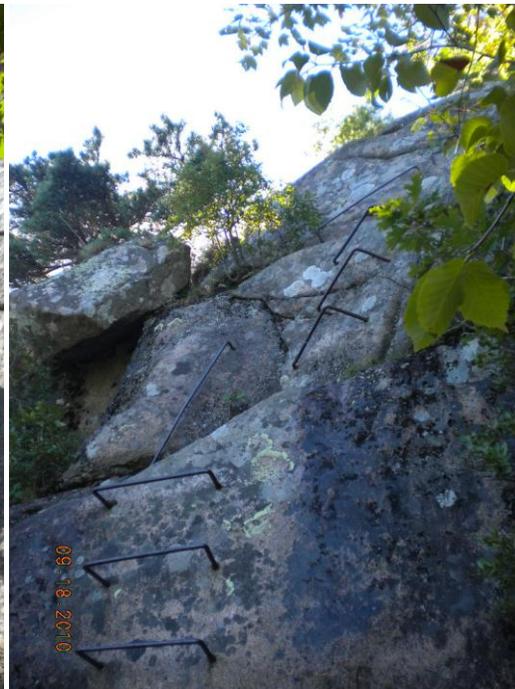

You can also tell by the smiling faces that everyone had a great time visiting with friends.

Saturday morning brought a full breakfast prior to the Royale Coach Club business meeting. Mary Habicht gave a wonderful talk about her and John's upcoming rally in Washington, DC in the spring. We can already see that Mary has spent many hours working and planning their rally. Laurel once again welcomed our first timers and said thank you to our sponsors, Liberty Coach and Prevost Car. She also presented Dave and Diane Brendle with an appreciation gift for all the years they published the Royale Proclamation.

The rally was officially over at the end of the business meeting so all said goodbyes as coaches started leaving for other travels. Several coaches stayed for the remainder of the weekend. Richard and Ann Gould, Bill Bunch, Nancy McNulty and I were brave enough to conquer the Precipice Trail in Acadia National Park on Saturday afternoon. This mountain trail was much more a climb than a hike. The climb was extremely strenuous and at times a little dangerous but it was also very exhilarating and beautiful.

Bill Bunch joined Ron and I for a round of golf on Sunday before he and Rita left the area. J.W. and Ginger Williams hung around a few more days so we ended our rally with them much the same way we started the PEI rally with them a couple weeks earlier - - - EATING LOBSTER!!!!

Safe Travels!!

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND, CANADA

By Kally Kitchings

The border crossing at Calais, Maine going into St. Stephens, New Brunswick was the easiest border crossing we have ever experienced. We simply showed our passports and Max's shot records and we were on our way. The drive through New Brunswick was stunning. Crossing the Confederation Bridge into Prince Edward Island was amazing. It is so hard to believe that a bridge could be built that is 8 miles long.

We finally arrived at the Marco Polo Campground in Cavendish, PEI and found that J.W. & Ginger Williams and Bill & Rita Bunch of the Royale Coach Club had already arrived. Barbara Hank, a motor home friend of our rally masters Larry and Beverly Dunville was also attending the PEI Mini Rally. This was by far the smallest RV rally in numbers that we have attended but numbers did not deter us from having a wonderful time with everyone there.

We started the rally Wednesday evening and at dinner discussed the proposed itinerary that the Dunville's suggested. Everyone agreed with the itinerary and knew we would have a great time. We met Thursday morning at the Dunville home and immediately were taken on a relaxing pontoon boat ride of the bay. We stopped at a marina for a delicious lunch and then rode the pontoon boat back to the Dunville's home. Of course, on the way back we had to do a little beach combing! Here we are on the beach.

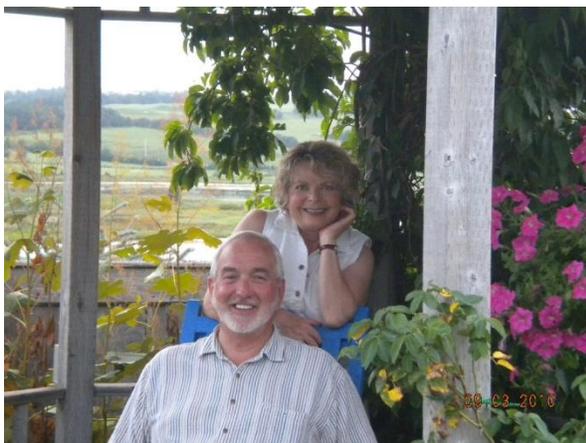

We had to eat an early dinner in order to arrive on time to attend the musical Anne & Gilbert. This musical was playing at the Harbourfront Theatre in Summerside. Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the musical that is in its 6th year of production.

On Friday, we left the campground in time for lunch at the Dunes. After lunch, the men of our group left for a tour of Allen Equipment while the women stayed at the Dunes to do a little shopping. The women did eventually meet up with the men at Allen Equipment but not before each of us had a shopping bag on our arm! The main piece of equipment that Allen Equipment manufactures is a huge potato harvester. However, the main thing that Larry wanted us to see was a prototype of a 53-foot semi-trailer chassis being built as a luxury RV. One of the bays of the trailer was being built to house a small car. Mr. Allen also wanted our input as RV'ers as to what we thought was important on the RV.

Friday late afternoon, we met at Larry and Beverly's home for wine and cheese. Larry was gracious enough to give us a tour of their beautiful home and permitted me to take their photo in Beverly's flower garden.

Friday evening we dined at the New Glasgow Lobster Supper. This was a restaurant that you ordered your lobster by the size you want and then everything else in the restaurant was an “all you can eat” - - - and believe me, we did! Our table ate the entire inventory of mussels left in the restaurant! The best thing to me in the restaurant was our server - - - her name was “Kally” and she spelled her name the same way I spell mine. This was the first time in my life that I ever met someone with my name. Naturally I had to have my photo taken with her and I have titled it - - - The Two Kallys. Here we are:

We had such a good time that night. Here are a few more photos.

Saturday evening was a wonderful dinner at the Shipwright Inn. The Shipwright Inn is a restaurant housed in an old Victorian style house. We had three tables in a room to ourselves, which enabled us to laugh and joke without disturbing other guests. From the next photo, you can see that I really tried to mind my manners!

At the end of the dinner, we were allowed to see the kitchen where all the meals were prepared. The kitchen was very small which amazed us all that such fine dining could come out of such a small space.

Sunday brunch was at the Pearl Restaurant followed by a street fest. We listened to some local musicians and did a little more shopping - - - more shopping bags on our arms!

Our last dinner together was Sunday night and was not even on the planned itinerary. However, since we were all still in town and had to eat that night so we went to a local family style restaurant. Most of us ate the special of the night, Turkey and Dressing. In addition, someone - - - I am not for sure who - - - let it leak to the restaurant staff that it was my birthday. Everyone sang Happy Birthday to me while delivering my piece of Double Double Death by Chocolate Cake! It sure tasted good.

Our rally was over and we had to say good-bye and thank you to Larry and Beverly. We told Larry, Beverly, and our new friend Barbara Hank that we would see them in Florida this winter. Then we told J.W. & Ginger and Bill and Rita that we would see them in a few days in Portland, Maine for the start of the Royale Coach Club Rally. Gosh - - - Life is Good!

If it is Monday, May 2, 2011, it must be Washington, DC. Come join us for 5 days of fun filled activities.

Starting Monday night, after check in, with Dinner and a Night Tour of DC. We will make stops at the Jefferson Memorial, Lincoln Memorial, Vietnam Memorial, Korean Memorial, and FDR Memorial. See our national monuments and federal buildings flooded in lights, from the illuminated dome of the US Capitol to the The Kennedy Center, Library of Congress, Supreme Court, House and Senate Office Buildings, Federal Triangle, Pennsylvania Avenue, The White House, Capitol Reflecting Pool, Georgetown, Marine Corps (Iwo Jima) Memorial, and the World War II Memorial. You will be fully captivated during this 3 hours tour.

Tuesday, enjoy a FREE day to re-visit DC on your own, using the Metro System near the campground. No parking problems on this trip. Visit the museums of your choice and meals on your own this day.

Come Early or Stay Late. But Come!!!!!! This trip will have a hundred things to do!

TRAVELS BY MAX

By Maxamillion "Max" Kitchings

Mom keeps telling me that I am one lucky dawg! I know she really means to call me a person but I will let her get away with calling me a lucky dawg in her southern drawl because she is so good to me. I know that I am lucky person because mom and dad always take me with them everywhere they go. I just love going on trips in our Prevost Royale bus.

Normally I only write this article about the Royale Rally that we have just attended but since this trip was such a long wonderful trip, I thought I would share with you my travels of the last three months.

We left our home in Texas on July 21st and went directly to Palo Duro Canyon, Texas. The Texas Musical was still playing so mom and dad went to that one night while I stayed at the bus and watched television. They told me the musical was awesome. We continued on our trip to our house in Pagosa Springs, Colorado. We were there for a month and I had a great time. There is really a lot for me to do in Colorado. I was always alerting mom and dad about the deer and elk that showed up in our back yard. If you do not believe me here is a photo of me finding a deer.

My folks have many friends from Texas that really like to travel to Colorado in the summer time to get out of the Texas heat. We had a party one night for our Texas neighbors and there were fourteen people there from Texas.

One day while we were there, my mom was all excited about going mountain climbing. She hiked and climbed all the way to the top of Pagosa Peak. She made sure she brought back a photo of her at the top so Dad and I would know she made it all the way. Here is her photo.

We eventually left Colorado for the very long drive to attend not one but two different Royale Coach Rallies. However, we had a few stops on the way to the rallies. Our first stop was to visit Royale Phoenix in Elkhart, Indiana. I got to visit with Mr. Dan and Mrs. Vicky Jourdan and Mr. Glen Berden. Mrs. Vicky gave us a box of Calendars to take to the rally for her because she was not able to attend.

When we left Elkhart, we went to Niagara Falls, New York. That was so much fun! Did you know that more than a million gallons of water goes over the falls every second? Here are a couple photos that mom took of the falls.

We left Niagara Falls and started driving towards Canada. This was my first trip outside the United States so I had to make sure I had all the correct paperwork to get into Canada. I guess my vet filled out my passport correctly because I did not have any problems crossing the border into the beautiful country of Canada.

Soon we arrived in Prince Edward Island and I started having fun with all the people attending the first Royale Coach Rally. Our rally master Larry Dunville made sure to come say hello to me every day that we were there. After the rally was over in Prince Edward Island, we headed to Portland and Bar Harbor, Maine for another Royale Coach Club Rally. I did not get to attend many of the functions at the rallies but I sure did enjoy seeing all the people. If you want to know what all went on at the rallies you can read all about them in my mom's recap of the rallies.

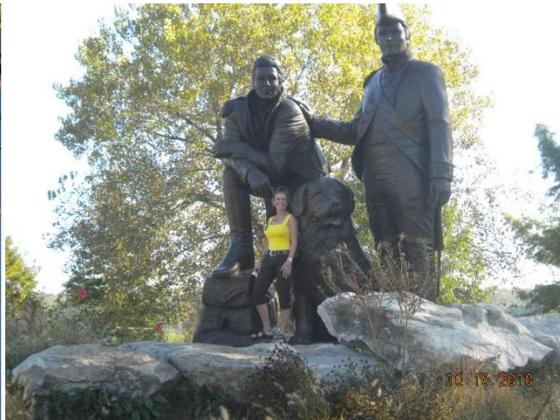

After the rallies were over and all the people and coaches left, my mom and dad and I stayed in Bar Harbor for another 10 days. My dad had his Air Force Reunion in Bar Harbor. This time I actually did get to attend some of the functions. The best of all was that I got to go on the schooner boat with everyone. It was really cold on the boat but mom brought my blanket and she wrapped it around me to keep me very warm. Then after the boat ride, we walked back into Bar Harbor and found a restaurant with an outdoor patio. It was wonderful to sit in a chair all by myself while everyone enjoyed his or her dinner. Here is a photo of me on the schooner.

After the Air Force Reunion was over some friends of ours from Dallas flew up to Maine to visit us. I got to ride all over Acadia National Park with them and eat out at another patio restaurant. The last night our friends were there, I decided to stay in the bus so mom and dad could go out for their last lobster dinner. I had been hearing mom talk about eating her weight in lobster for the last 3 weeks. She must have eaten it all because she never brought home any "Dawggie Bags" for me!

After we left Bar Harbor, we headed toward Cincinnati so we could visit my big brother and his family. Mom and dad really loved that visit because they got to see three of their ten grandchildren. They went to piano practice, dance practice, a soccer game, the zoo and a neighborhood party. We were supposed to leave on a Wednesday but they decided to stay longer because it was grandparents' day at school on Friday and they just could not miss that.

After Cincinnati, we headed towards St. Louis for a few days. Mom and dad visited the famous arch and said they had a real good time. I got to go for a little hike with mom and dad and that was wonderful. I love walking in the woods - - - so much to see and smell! We walked on the famous Katy Trail and visited the Lewis and Clark Memorial. Here are a couple photos of the time we spent in St. Louis.

Then it was off again towards a little town in Oklahoma called Guthrie. A bunch of people from our neighborhood in Texas met us there for a week to play golf. Those people brought their "dawgs" with them so I had many friends to play with. I do like to play with the golf balls but unfortunately, they do not make golf clubs small enough for me.

We have finally made it back to Texas and I am sleeping in my own bed again. I really enjoyed our 3-month long trip but I have to admit - - -

There's no place like home!

Until next time - - - safe travels to all and I will see you soon in our Nation's Capitol.

- Updates and New Technology p. 2
- Michigan Summer Rally Memories p. 3
- Our Sales Specialists p. 4

Thank you for helping us along!

As we move through 2010 it has presented it's own set of challenges. We have been very fortunate to have sold and delivered 38 units as of the end of July which is a 20% increase from this time last year in both new and used sales. With this trend we have doubled our North Chicago employee base from 2009 to accommodate the slight increase in new production to meet the coming demand. We are very happy to be able to bring back some of the employees that had to be laid-off due to manufacturing adjustments.

We have now implemented the Lithium-Iron Phosphate battery technology across our entire product line which has increased our lower bay storage and overall weight carrying capacity. We had started this transition with our H3-45 Triple Slide #718 and now all units from Liberty Coach #723 forward will include this advanced technology.

For more information on new technology we are implementing and upcoming changes, please check out the article on page 2. Better yet, stop by our facility in Stuart, FL on your way south and we'll show you all the latest bells and whistles. You're always welcome to spend the night in our on-site campground. Call for more info 800-554-9877.

Looking forward to seeing you soon down the road!

Liberty Coach Updates for 2010 by Frank Konigseder

Lower Bay Entertainment Center Update, Apple iPad integration and the new Volvo D13 Engine

Being in a coach driving across the country always seems to spark our creativity and desire to continually improve upon our existing designs. The past few months we have been working on a change we are excited to show you. Just in time for football season, we have completely redesigned the lower bay entertainment center starting with coach #722. The new slide-out/swivel mechanism we have engineered allows us to include a 46" LED TV with a high powered virtual surround sound speaker system that incorporates a Marantz home theater processor. The complete system utilizes a very small footprint and will definitely be marveled at by not only our customers but by our competition as well.

And not to be sleeping at the wheel on the electronic technology side of things, we have also incorporated the new Apple iPad into the Crestron Remote control system. Utilizing the Crestron App from Apple we can now add the iPad to any Liberty Coach back to coach #668 as long as you have an Apple laptop.

I would also like to touch on the coming change in regards to the Volvo D13 engine implementation for the new Prevost shells. This new system is the only one industry-wide that meets the EPA's near-zero NOx emissions requirement. While this change will be a more environmentally friendly alternative, it will present draw backs to the customer. The rear area of the H3-45 will see an approximate 20% loss of closet space added to the loss realized from the engine exhaust stack. Additionally, each coach will now have a 32 Liter Urea additive tank which must be refilled (by purchased containers) every 2nd fuel fill. The Volvo motor will be the model D13 which is a 13 liter engine producing 500 HP and capable of generating 1750 ft-lbs of torque. This will still be coupled to the Allison Gen-4 transmission we currently use.

Other news coming out of Prevost is the planned change for the XL-II model shell. In the coming months I will be able to relate to you all the information that becomes available with regards to this change, but as it stands now the XL-II production will end and it will be replaced with a modified version of the Prevost Entertainer Shell. This 45 foot shell will look like the current XL-II but will have a longer wheel base which means it will have a longer turning radius. The shell will have an increase in headroom of 3" over the current XL-II which means that it will be 6" taller inside than the H3-45. This shell will have the same, if not more, difficult challenges related to interior and lower bay storage losses that the new H3-45 faces but we are working to design the most efficient use of the new space. At this time we are anticipating receiving the new XL model sometime in late 2011. When more information becomes available I will pass it along.

I can't stress enough how good it makes us all feel to see you out at the events that we have attended. No matter what kind of coach you own its great to see you enjoying the lifestyle that we continue to promote and live. We extend an invitation to all of you to join us at a rally soon on our "Good Life Leisure Tour".
